"Man's Inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn," so said Robert Burns. He was probably fresh from the hands of the village barber when he made that remark. Bubbles beard so as to unselfishly relieve the barber from his wisdom, and so known to all of your correspondents. No one can be free of the inhumanity to man, for the moment we find that razor in hand, we are reminded to go to Snow's Variety Store and get a box of Bubbles. Price only 25 cents per box. Parties desiring to be relieved from the fate of Burns can find a substitute under the exciting goods of one of the five specialties at our Variety Store.

That Tired Feeling
Every body knows what that tired feeling is. It arises from a torpid liver, which fails to throw off the impurities of the blood. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a concentrated extract of the best alterative roots and barks, and is prepared to effect just the cures where they are needed. The contented, cheerful state of mind which follows the use of this medicine, is felt by all who take it. Purified blood is essential to health, and nothing will so surely and speedily purify it as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. For the cure of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Boils, Pimples, and all diseases arising from impure blood, it is the best remedy that can be taken. Sold by druggists and dealers in medicine.

"I have made it a regular practice to purify my system with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and find it to be the best medicine for the purpose. It makes me feel well, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to my friends."—Mrs. C. F. Hayes, Lima, Ohio.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from weakness, and it built me up."—Mrs. C. E. Sawyer, Colcord, N. Y.

"About a year ago I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was all run down, had no appetite, my food would not digest, and I was troubled with nervous debility. STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

William Sheehan, of Lewiston, who had both legs cut off at Actonday Crossing, Tuesday night, is now lying in a critical condition at the Montreal General Hospital. He is a Lewiston man, married, and about 27 years of age. Some seven years since he lost all the fingers of his right hand in the Pioneer of the Hill mill. His parents state that he had gone on a trip to visit his grandmother, who resides near Montreal.

A special meeting of the board of trustees of Bates College, was held at the residence of President Cheney, Thursday night, April 17th. A short time previous to this meeting the treasurer announced the fact that, owing to extensive repairs, etc., the college had fallen in debt $4,000 the present year. This sum has been quite quickly raised, having been contributed, mostly by private individuals. There were many friends of the college present at the meeting, and it is thought there will be some good announcements made for Bates at the next commencement. O. C. Wendell, a graduate of '68, and at present a professor of astronomy at Harvard University, has recently been elected a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. Prof. Wendell was also elected a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Sciences, in 1883, also a member of the "M. P. Club," an association of mathematicians and physicists of Boston and Cambridge, in 1881, and became a member of the Philosophical Scientific Society in 1882. The seniors are making big preparations for commencement. The Beethoven Company of Boston and some celebrated soloists have already been secured. No contributions have been required, but Henry Ward Beecher is talked of. The $75 prize offered to the Junior class, last year by a Boston gentleman for the best written and best delivered part, will be offered to the present Junior class. Two other prizes will also be awarded by the college. The Juniors have voted unanimously to observe Ivy Day, and are making big preparations for that pleasant occasion. The Freshmen have organized a polo club and are practicing daily in the gymnasium.

Cumberland.

J. Hanley, of Portland, is one of the oldest residents of that city. He will be 95 years of age next August. He was born in Reading, Mass., and when eighteen months old his parents took him with all their household goods on an ox sled, and moved to Norway, Maine, which was almost an unbroken forest. Hussey's he can remember when there was not a house where Norway Village now stands, also when the town was incorporated, and the discussion about what the name should be. His memory is very good and he often tells of those early days of the rough and ready times in the logging camp with its rude cooking and dangerous times in river driving, clearing, burning heavy timberlands for farming, of one Jerry Foster and himself, felling twenty-eight acres in fourteen days. They were hard boys to beat with an axe in those days. He has always been a staunch republican since the organization of the party, and has voted at every Presidential election since he was 21 years old, which occurred in 1812, the year James Madison was re-elected. Though his candidate has not always been the winning party he has never failed to give his vote for what he thought it would be the best man. When he was 2 years old, a man hanged for stealing $200 to vote. With his ready money, some sheep, and a cow, he was considered competent to cast his vote for President. He says should he live until November, he would like to be able to go the polls, and cast his vote for James G. Blaine if he is nominated.

Kennebec.

The surviving members of Company B, 3d Maine Regiment, held their first reunion at the residence of Col. H. G. Staples, of Augusta, Tuesday evening, to celebrate the 23d anniversary of the formation of the company. It is intended to have these reunions annually, hereafter.

Sagadahoc.

A request has been sent from Bath to the secretary of the navy asking that a naval vessel be sent to rescue the shipwrecked crew on the Bath ship, Rainier, lost in the South Pacific, January 6th. The survivors are on an unfrequented island, one of the Ujael group, 3,000 miles from the main land.

Washington.

M. B. Stevens' store in Cutler, was entered last Friday evening by some person or persons and robbed of a small sum of money and a few goods, as the Machias Union. The object of the thieves, no doubt, was money, as Mr. Stevens had been keen to take quite a sum of money that day. Only a small amount of change was left in the drawer which they secured.

Making Paper Pails.

There is a paper pail factory in Syracuse, New York, that is intended to turn out five hundred paper pails per day. The Syracuse Herald describes the process of making them, as follows:

Rags and paper waste are steamed in vats for a few hours, and then thrown into beating troughs, which are partly filled with water. The beating is done by revolving cylinders, set at different angles. The knives reduce the rags to a dirty, purple pulp, and change the newspaper waste to soft mush. About four hundred pounds of material are put under each beater. When paper and rags are each reduced to pulp, the valve is opened, and the stuff runs into the stuff chest, but one part of rag pulp to ten of paper. It runs into the chest, the stuff chest, but a pulling machine, the Ballot Prepared for the Democratic Party.

The people in the North, who, during the heat of the most exciting campaign, in the freest expression of their views on the merits of the question involved in the canvass and when the time comes for a final decision through means of the ballot, go to the polls and deposit their votes without fear of molestation can realize the situation in some sections of the South during the same exciting periods. It seems almost incredible that in any part of this country, to be a Republican would mean a sacrifice of personal property, or what is infinitely worse, human life, but such is the case. Shocking as it may be to those who cannot conceive of a man being brutally murdered because he insists on voting according to his own best judgment, rather than at the dictation of a Bourbon mob. No more terrible illustration of the monstrous spirit that runs riot in portions of the South has been given to the public than the killing of C. H. Matthews, of Copiah County, Miss., who was shot down in cold blood by an appointed assassin, at the urged friend of the victim by this most foul plot, simply because Matthews refused to surrender the privilege granted to the Constitution to every free citizen to remain away from the polls when so ordered by a mob that is determined the democratic party shall rule supreme even at the cost of human life. This great crime has been carefully investigated and the character of the man who preferred death to the sacrifice of the principles in which he earnestly believed, and who was murdered by his murderers knowing that their lips were forever closed, can best be learned from the statement of Senator Hoar, who had charge of the investigation, as given by the Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal.

"That man Pratt Matthews," said Senator Hoar, speaking of the progress of his report upon the Copiah investigation, "ought to have a monument erected to him in the State of Mississippi. His life was of exceptional heroism, and he was murdered solely because he was a Republican." The report of the majority of the committee on the Copiah investigation is advanced. It will require about one hundred manuscript pages to tell the story of this atrocious political massacre, and as it will be well told by one familiar with the methods of Senator Hoar, who is writing it, well knows. The evidence has been printed. An examination of it shows that it was very compactly put in form by the examiners, and that in almost every case the grave character of this outrage appears.

"That Matthews was the foremost man in the community. He was brave enough to be a Union man during the war, and strong enough to be a Republican afterward. He was the wealthiest man of the community. He built churches and school houses, and helped the poor. He was waited upon by 150 men armed with guns belonging to the State, and having their possession a rumor belonging to the State, who told him that it would be better for him not to vote the next day. His answer was that they had the power to kill him, but if he lived he should vote. He did not live to vote, but was shot as he was attempting to cast his ballot. It has been suggested by the Democrats that Matthews was killed as the result of a local feud. The answer to that in the testimony is very simple and very horrible. The man who committed the murder says that he killed Matthews for the Democratic party."

The Fourth District.

[Dexter Gazette.]

Next Tuesday the Republicans of this district will meet at Bangor to nominate a Congressman. We hear of no opposition to the re-nomination of C. A. Boutelle, and there will probably be none. For a number Mr. Boutelle has taken a prominent as well as useful part in shaping legislation of the National House. His constituents seem to appreciate this fact and we have no doubt that Mr. Boutelle will be unanimously re-nominated at Bangor and as decidedly re-elected next fall.

[Kennebec Journal.]

Hon. Charles A. Boutelle will be renominated a candidate for Congress, as the caucuses which have so far been held in his district, abundantly indicate. Mr. Boutelle is an honest and able man, and a faithful a representative of the interests of his constituents as there is in the National House of Representatives. The convention of the Fourth District will be held in Bangor next Tuesday.

The Presidency.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE VOTE IN THE NEW YORK CONVENTION.

[Tribune of April 26.

Yesterday the Tribune called attention to these two significant facts. First, that the Blaine vote in the Utica Convention was chiefly cast by the representatives of the Republican counties; second, that the opposition vote was chiefly cast by the representatives of counties that are recognized as Democratic strongholds. In order to bring out these points more clearly it is only necessary to examine the vote in detail.

Mr. Miller received 243 votes for delegate-at-large, 248 being a majority. The following table shows the counties that cast these 243 votes:

	Rep. Vote	Maj.
Allegany	3,677	1,341

Here we have thirty Republican counties which gave an aggregate majority of 20,671 for General Carr, voting for the leading Blaine candidate for delegate-at-large. Only thirteen other counties gave a majority for General Carr. The following table shows the vote and the majority in each county.

	Rep. Vote	Maj.

These counties are to be credited to the Edmunds-Arthur delegates although in Oneida Mr. Miller received five of the thirteen votes and was voted for in some of the other counties.

Supplementing the returns thus given we have:

BLAINE'S STRONG HOLD ON THE COUNTRY.

[San Francisco Bulletin.]

Blaine is rapidly forging ahead for the nomination to the Presidency. He is stronger now than he was either in 1876 or in 1880. * * * If he continues to gain in the same ratio in the other states his nomination may be regarded as certain. Of one fact there cannot be any doubt—Blaine has a stronger hold on the country. He has kept that hold longer than at least any modern politician. This country is a worshipper of brilliant talents, and Blaine has them in abundance. The strong position which he developed on external questions during his short incumbency of the office of Secretary of State has, beyond question, in view of recent scenes and startling events, greatly added to him. But whoever is nominated, it is to be hoped that the Republican National Convention will not fall into the mistake, which has already been the cause of some sad passages in our history, by the selection of a candidate for the second place on the ticket. It has been the custom of both parties to give that position to the defeated leader of the party. But in the light of past history a strong protest will be entered against any such arrangement. This disposition of the Vice Presidency does not conciliate anybody. If Blaine is nominated a Blaine man, or at least a friend and co-worker, should be put on the ticket with him. If somebody else should win, the Vice Presidency should be taken from the circle of his immediate friends.

Minnesota for Blaine.

The Minneapolis Tribune has received answers to presidential inquiries from those who represent 1,235 Republicans. Blaine is the first choice of 770, Edmunds of 99, Arthur of 182, Lincoln of 80, Logan of 47, and the rest scattering. Mr. Edmunds is the second choice of 98, or, as the Tribune puts it, "or nearly all Minnesota Republicans." Of 882 Democratic replies, Tilden is the choice of 490, Bayard of 63, Butler of 45, Payne of 42, Hancock of 24, and the rest scattering, except that 160 reported no choice. On the tariff question, 538 out of 615 replies are in favor of protection as against a tariff for revenue only. This is pretty well in a State in which the Republicans have been reported as being more hostile to protection than they are in any other State.

THE Henry F. Miller PIANOS

The most successful Piano for the past twenty years.

[Musical Courier.

New York, March 5th, 1884.

Within a few weeks the most accomplished amateur pianists in Boston, the daughter of the Lieutenant-Governor of the State, a lady of remarkable musical talent, who cannot be influenced, determined to change one of her several grand pianos (a Chickering, she had been using for some time), and after a thorough test in exchange it for a new one of the same manufacture. She grand piano she examined did not satisfy her demands as an artist and she visited the warerooms of Henry F. Miller, where she at once found a grand piano that combined all the elements—tone, touch, singing quality, power etc.—which she considered necessary in a high grade instrument, and she purchased it in exchange for the Chickering grand piano.

This is not an ordinary case. In fact it seems to be one of the few extraordinary cases, where an independent judgment is entitled to exercise its complete sway, and it thus points out the tendency of events. The Millers are aiming at an artistic position. Only patronage for the highest grade of workmanship is solicited. Elegant catalogue will be sent on application.

No unselfish or unworthy motive can enter into the contract, the act itself is seen a delicate and cultivated moral sense is in addition, and in a large degree a matter of necessity and convenience, to the part of him who is the subscriber. GENTLEMEN:—The J. & C. Fischer Piano, No. 4,750, which I have this day exchanged with you for a new style C. J. & C. Fischer Upright, No. 23,800, has been in my possession over twenty (20) years, and during all the time it has given entire satisfaction. As one evidence of its durability, I would say that during the past twenty two years but nine strings have required renewing, and the instrument has been tuned but four times. I have often been asked by friends if I was not sorry to exchange with the Fischer Piano that I did, my answer has been in recommending them as I do supported by the many testimonials of their merit, as well Upright being a evidence of my sincerity in giving this voluntary testimonial.

THE PHELPS LETTER.

A Malicious Attack Upon Mr. Blaine

Eternally Disposed of.

Phelps Challenges a Denial

Facts in His Letter

Hon Wm Walter Phelps has written a letter to the editor of the New York Evening Post in denial of the statement that Mr Phelps' opposition to the Little Rock & Fort Smith R R land grant bill was in the interest of Mr Blaine's brother-in-law, and that Mr Blaine, while Secretary of State, was interested in a bill to renew the land grant to the Little Rock & Fort Smith R R Company. Mr Phelps says, Mr Blaine's brother-in-law never had a dollar invested in the road, directly or indirectly, and that Mr Blaine's connection with the bill was limited to the reading of the bill calling it up for consideration, and to the signing of the conference report when it was presented to him. Mr Phelps says that Mr Blaine never spoke to him about the bill, and that Mr Blaine's name was not mentioned in connection with it in any way. Mr Phelps says that Mr Blaine was not the author of the bill passed during the Forty-seventh Congress, but that it was introduced by Senator Dawes

The following beautiful tribute to the late David Barker was found among the manuscript papers of Mrs James Appleton who died in this city a few days ago. It seems to have been written by her to Mr Barker during his last sickness, but never published. He died a few days after it was written.

To David Barker.
